President's Corner

Dear North Central Parenting Group Members,

To our new members...WELCOME, we are so excited that you will be joining us this year! And a BIG welcome back to our returning members! We look forward to learning, growing together, and supporting one another as moms.

I am so excited to be returning to the Board for my third year, and I can't wait for you to see all the new and exciting things we have planned for our 30th year in the Valley. I am surrounded by a fabulous group of women on the Board this year, and I hope you will take the time to contact us with any questions.

We also have a fabulous group of teachers returning to us, as well as a new instructor for our Kindergarten class.

I look forward to our year together and please don't hesitate to reach out to me if there is ever anything you need.

Sincerely,

Molly Livak

Have a strong-willed child? You're lucky! Strong willed children can be a challenge to parent when they're young, but if sensitively parented, they become terrific teens and young adults. Self-motivated and inner-directed, they go after what they want and are almost impervious to peer pressure. As long as parents resist the impulse to "break their will," strong-willed kids often become leaders.

What exactly is a strong-willed, or spirited, child? Some parents call them "difficult" or "stubborn," but we could also see strong-willed kids as people of integrity who aren't easily swayed from their own viewpoints. Strong-willed kids want to learn things for themselves rather than accepting what others accept, so they test the limits over and over. They want desperately to be "in charge" of themselves, and will sometimes put their desire to "be right" above everything else. When their heart is set on something, their brains seem to have a hard time switching gears. Strong-willed kids have big, passionate feelings and live at full throttle.

Often, strong-willed kids are prone to power-struggles with their parents. However, it takes two to have a power struggle. You don't have to attend every argument to which you're invited! If you can take a deep breath when your buttons get pushed, and remind yourself that you can let your child save face and still get what you want, you can learn to sidestep those power struggles.

Strong-willed kids aren't just being difficult. They feel their integrity is compromised if they're forced to submit to another person's will. If they're allowed to choose, they love to cooperate. If this bothers you because you think obedience is an important quality, I'd ask you to reconsider. Of course you want to raise a responsible, considerate, cooperative child who does the right thing, even when it's hard. But that doesn't imply obedience. That implies doing the right thing because you want to. Morality is doing what's right, no matter what you're told. Obedience is doing what you're told, no matter what's right.

So of course you want your child to do what you say. But not because he's obedient, meaning that he always does what someone bigger tells him to do. No, you want him to do what you say because he trusts YOU, because he's learned that even though you can't always say yes to what he wants, you have his best interests at heart. You want to raise a child who has self-discipline, takes responsibility, and is considerate -- and most important, has the discernment to figure out who to trust and when to be influenced by someone else.

Breaking a child's will leaves him open to the influence of others who often will not serve him. What's more, it's a betrayal of the spiritual contract we make as parents. That said, strong-willed kids can be a handful -- high energy, challenging, persistent. How do we protect those fabulous qualities and encourage their cooperation?

Ten Tips for Positive Parenting Your Strong-Willed, Spirited Child

Avoid power struggles by using routines and rules. That way, you aren't bossing them around, it's just that "The rule is we use the potty after every meal and snack," or "The schedule is that lights-out is at 8pm. If you hurry, we'll have time for two books," or "In our house, we finish homework before screen time." The parent stops being the bad guy.

THE ONLY ONES WHO WILL HAVE MORE FUN THAN YOU ARE YOUR KIDS.

FOR MORE THAN 115 YEARS, the Phoenix Country Club has been creating enduring family memories in the heart of the city. In this spectacular oasis from the every day, kids can have the time of their lives just being kids. They'll love spending their days playing or taking golf, tennis and swim lessons from our outstanding instructors. And while the kids are off enjoying themselves, parents can work out, have a rejuvenating spa treatment or just relax by the pool. At the Phoenix Country Club, there are no hidden fees or mandatory monthly fees beyond the dues, creating a convenient and affordable family membership. Phoenix Country Club is a private club and membership is accepted through sponsorship by current members. Please contact Colette Bunch to inquire about introductions and the membership process.

- 2. Remember that strong-willed kids are experiential learners. That means they have to see for themselves if the stove is hot. So unless you're worried about serious injury, it's more effective to let them learn through experience, instead of trying to control them. And you can expect your strongwilled child to test your limits repeatedly--that's how he learns. Once you know that, it's easier to stay calm, which avoids wear and tear on your relationship--and your nerves.
- 3. Your strong-willed child wants mastery more than anything. Let her take charge of as many of her own activities as possible. Don't nag at her to brush her teeth; ask "What else do you need to do before we leave?" If she looks blank, tick off the short list: "Every morning we eat, brush teeth, use the toilet, and pack the backpack. I saw you pack your backpack, that's terrific! Now, what do you still need to do before we leave?" Kids who feel more independent and in charge of themselves will have less need to be oppositional. Not to mention, they take responsibility early.
- 4. Give your strong-willed child choices. If you give orders, he will almost certainly bristle. If you offer a choice, he feels like the master of his own destiny. Of course, only offer choices you can live with and don't let yourself get resentful by handing away your power. If going to the store is nonnegotiable and he wants to keep playing, an appropriate choice is: "Do you want to leave now or in ten minutes? Okay, ten minutes with no fuss? Let's shake on it... And since it could be hard to stop playing in ten minutes, how can I help you then?"
- 5 . Give her authority over her own body. "I hear that you don't want to wear your jacket today. I think it's cold and I am definitely wearing a jacket. Of course, you are in charge of your own body, as long as you stay safe and healthy, so you get to decide whether to wear a jacket. But I'm afraid that you will be cold once we are outside, and I won't want to come back to the house. How about I put your jacket in the backpack, and then we'll have it if you change your mind?" She's not going to get pneumonia, unless you push her into it by acting like you've won if she asks for the jacket. And since she won't lose face by wearing her jacket, she'll be begging for it once she gets cold. It's just hard for her to imagine feeling cold when she's so warm right now in the house, and a jacket seems like such a hassle. She's sure she's right -- her own body is telling her so -- so naturally she resists you. You don't want to undermine that self-confidence, just teach her that there's no shame in letting new information change her mind.
- O. Don't push him into opposing you. Force always creates "push-back" — with humans of all ages. If you take a hard and fast position, you can easily push your child into defying you, just to prove a point. You'll know when it's a power struggle and you're invested in winning. Just stop, take a breath, and remind yourself that winning a battle with your child always sets you up to lose what's most important: the relationship. When in doubt say "Ok, you can decide this for yourself." If he can't, then say what part of it he can decide, or find another way for him to meet his need for autonomy without compromising his health or safety.

- Side-step power struggles by letting your child save face. You don't have to prove you're right. You can, and should, set reasonable expectations and enforce them. But under no circumstances should you try to break your child's will or force him to acquiesce to your views. He has to do what you want, but he's allowed to have his own opinions and feelings about it.
- 8. Listen to her. You, as the adult, might reasonably presume you know best. But your strong-willed child has a strong will partly as a result of her integrity. She has a viewpoint that is making her hold fast to her position, and she is trying to protect something that seems important to her. Only by listening calmly to her and reflecting her words will you come to understand what's making her oppose you. A nonjudgmental "I hear that you don't want to take a bath. Can you tell me more about why?" might just elicit the information that she's afraid she'll go down the drain, like Alice in the song. It may not seem like a good reason to you, but she has a reason. And you won't find it out if you get into a clash and order her into the tub.
- 9. See it from his point of view. For instance, he may be angry because you promised to wash his superman cape and then forgot. To you, he is being stubborn. To him, he is justifiably upset, and you are being hypocritical, because he is not allowed to break his promises to you, but you broke yours to him. How do you clear this up and move on? You apologize profusely for breaking your promise, you reassure him that you try very hard to keep your promises, and you go, together, to wash the cape. You might even teach him how to wash his own clothes! Just consider how would you want to be treated, and treat him accordingly.
- 10. Discipline through the relationship, never through punishment. Kids don't learn when they're in the middle of a fight. Like all of us, that's when adrenaline is pumping and learning shuts off. Kids behave because they want to please us. The more you fight with and punish your child, the more you undermine her desire to please you. If she's upset, help her express her hurt, fear or disappointment, so they evaporate. Then she'll be ready to listen to you when you remind her that in your house, everyone speaks kindly to each other. (Of course, you have to model that. Your child won't always do what you say, but she will always, eventually, do what you do.)

Ask the Expert

Each month, we invite local experts to share their knowledge with NCPG members. This month we hear from StudioMixx owner, Shandi Rooney.

10 Tips to Getting Back into Working Out

- 1. Make the time... You won't find the time, you have to create the time to workout. Take two days (starting now!) and keep track of exactly how you spend your time. Schedule your workout into an open time slot, and add it into your phone calendar so your workout makes the "to do list." "You just have to prioritize sometimes," says Shandi. "Look at the house and say, 'Maybe the house isn't perfect today, but I'm going to get my workout in.'"
- 2. Stay off of the Scale... Progress isn't measured in pounds. A single number does not reflect your body composition or body type. It won't tell you if that weight is comprised mainly of muscle or if you carry a lot of fat or if you're retaining water. Deciding on an arbitrary number for your weight does not work. Your body won't function at 100 pound just because you decided it would. Your body knows where it is happiest.
- 3. Hit Play... Exercise DVDs are cost-effective, private and flexible, and they allow you to stop and start your workouts based on real-life time constraints. For example, you can do laundry while working out. Try Shandi's three-disc DVD collection Mixxtreme Fitness. Purchase at www. stuidomixxaz.com

- 4. Hit It Hard... When you're short on time, focus on higher-payoff workouts. If you're focused, there's no reason you can't get results in less than 20 minutes when working out three to four times a week. See the Mixx in 20 workout below.
- 5. Rise and Shine... For most people, the day only gets more demanding as it goes on. So exercising first thing in the morning will ensure you fit it in. Lay out your workout clothes the night before, this way you won't waste any time and can't claim you forgot anything.
- 6. Workout Smart... A smart workout is one where you approach fitness in an intelligent and balanced manner, working arms with abs, cardio with balance, planks with pushups. The results a revved up metabolism that keeps you burning fat even when you aren't working out. You should always work multiple muscle groups at one time to maximize your workout.
- 7. Burn More Fat... Interval training alternates short bursts of intense activity with longer intervals of much lower intensity. Interval training on a treadmill burns more 30 percent more fat and calories than steady state jogging or walking. TREDMIXX at StudioMixx is the most effective form of interval training using the treadmill to reach high intensity levels and floor work to sculpt and recover before spiking the heart rate again.

8. Stay Hydrated... Water acts as a natural appetite suppressant and aids in metabolism, making it essential for weight loss.

9. Eat High-Protein Foods... High-protein foods take more work to digest, metabolize, and process, staying in your stomach longer so you feel full for an extended amount of time. The cumulative effect has obvious benefits for anyone who is watching her weight. Your body uses the amino acids in protein to build lean muscle, which not only makes you stronger and more toned but also fries calories even when you're not active. Experts advise consuming between 0.5 grams and 1.0 grams of protein per pound of your body weight.

10. Employ the Buddy System.... There's strength in numbers, the old saying goes, and that's especially true for many women when it comes to exercising. Social support encourages physical activity. An exercise buddy (or two) makes such support even more personal and will keep boredom away and makes time pass quickly.

StudioMixx 20 Minute Cardio/Sculpt Workout

Each Exercise should be done for one minute. Repeat the series four times.

JUMPING JACKS - Stand with feet together, knees slightly bent, and arms to sides. Jump while raising arms and separating legs to sides. Land on forefoot with legs apart and arms overhead. Jump again while lower arms and returning legs to midline. Land on forefoot with arms and legs in original position and repeat.

PUSHUPS SHOULDER

TAP - Starting on knees with hands slightly wider than shoulder width. Lower body down to the ground, push your body back up. Rapidly tap shoulder with opposite hand and place it back on floor. Continue and repeat.

STRAIGHT ARM PLANK WITH ALTERNATING KNEE PULL - Start in an upper pushup position with the wrist under > shoulders. Begin to pull each knee into the opposite wrist one at a time.

SQUAT AND ALTERNATE

KICKS - Start with feet shoulder width apart and squat down like you are going to sit down in a low chair. Make sure not to bend forward. At the top of the squat, kick your right leg. Squat back down and at the top of the squat, kick the left leg. Repeat.

NCPG 2014-15 Instructor Roster

We are delighted to have a fabulous group of teachers returning to NCPG this year with a few new additions! We encourage you to get to know a little bit more about all of these wonderful women. Also, our Class Reps will again be working hard to update you on the latest NCPG events and will be planning some great play dates throughout the year.

Monique Nelson PRE-INFANT & INFANT I

Monique, a native Arizonan, received her Bachelor's of Science degree from Arizona State University in biology/premed. However, she had a slight change in career plans when she met and married her husband of 18 years, David. She decided to stay in the Valley and went back to school to attain a degree in Nursing and became a registered nurse, with her focus on pediatrics. Monique worked as a pediatric triage/advice nurse for North Scottsdale Pediatric Associates off and on for 18 years. She teaches not only for NCPG but Scottsdale Parenting group as well. She also taught for East Valley Positive Parenting group before the group dissolved. Monique is the proud parent of two children, Taylor age 15 and Dylan age 10.

Amy Stewart INFANT II

Amy has a Bachelor's of Science degree in Nursing. She has worked as a Registered Nurse at Scottsdale Healthcare Shea for the past 10 years. After becoming a mother, Amy switched her nursing roles from adult care to pediatrics. She has earned her pediatric nurse certification. Amy has directed various programs and teaching projects throughout the hospital system. She has also led women, family, and children groups with her church organization. Amy feels her greatest accomplishments are found in her home. She loves being the wife to her husband, Drew, and mother to her son, Merik, 4, and daughter, Sophie, 2. Amy loves being active and enjoys competing in sprint triathlons.

Patti Carter TODDLER I

An Arizona native, Patti has a Bachelor's degree in Education, a Master's degree in Counseling, a Law degree, and a Professional Certificate in Nonprofit Management. Over the past thirty years, Patti has taught for a variety of programs, working with toddlers through adults. She conducts workshops and courses for students, parents and professionals on child development, parenting, and family relationships. She also works as a nonprofit consultant, specializing in program development and fundraising. In her free time, Patti is very involved in animal rescue and fosters/adopts out dogs and cats. She also likes to squeeze in a yoga class or a good book! Patti and her husband have 3 adult children: Leah 28, Mark 26 and Steven 24.

Gina Marianetti TODDLER II

Gina Marianetti, is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker and holds a master's degree in Social Work from Arizona State University. Although originally from New Mexico, she has worked as a Social Worker in Phoenix for over 10 years. Gina is passionate about her work with children and families. She has worked in several local schools as well as Phoenix Children's Hospital. Currently, Gina has a private practice working with children and families experiencing issues related to grief, loss and trauma, as well helping children to develop healthy social skills and self-esteem. Additionally, Gina is a Faculty Associate instructor in the Graduate Social Work Department at ASU. Gina enjoys spending time with her husband Jim, 2 ½ year old daughter Eleanor, and their son Everett, who was born in March. Together they love staying active through hiking, swimming, and visiting family out of state.

Barb Grady PRE-SCHOOL I

Barb Grady loves teaching for NCPG and has done so for over 20 years. She is a nationally certified counselor and counsels at GateWay Community College. Barb is a certified teacher and taught preschool, Kindergarten, 1st and 2nd grades prior to becoming a parenting instructor. Barb provided counseling services for families and emotionally disabled children for the Tempe School District. In 1999, Barb began her business, Parenting-Plus, where she offers parenting classes, individual consulting and life/parent coaching for both adults and children. Barb trains preschool and elementary school teachers in emotional intelligence, brain-based learning strategies and classroom management techniques. Barb has two daughters: Jody, (29) who is a nurse, and has a 2 year old son Carter and a one year old son named Grady (after Barb), and Annie, (25) who is passionate about sustainability and beginning her Master of Communication degree at the University of Alaska in Fairbanks.

Tibby Cornelius PRESCHOOL II

Tibby Cornelius is the CEO (Coordinator of Exciting Optimism) of Jest in Time. She founded Jest in Time 19 years ago to teach and motivate others to invite more laughter, humor and play into their lives. Tibby has a B.A. in psychology from Westmont College, and a Master of Counseling Degree from ASU. She also is a Certified Parent Effectiveness Training Instructor, Certified MegaSkills Instructor, Certified Positive Discipline Instructor, Adjunct Faculty of Phoenix College, Faculty of AGTS, and a Certified Laughter Leader. Tibby has been happily married to her husband, Dennis, for 40 years and has three huge grown sons, three adorable daughters-in-law and six wonderful grandchildren! She has worked with thousands of people nationally teaching them how to live happily ever laughter.

Joan Sarin PRE-KINDERGARTEN

Joan Sarin, M.S. is a social psychologist, EQ Educator and Stepfamily Coach. She has taught at every level from preschool through college, focusing on emotional intelligence, positive psychology and personal development. Her twenty years as a stepmom and mom have provided her with abundant opportunities to convert her theories into practical experience. She consults in schools, training both students and parents to integrate emotional intelligence into their daily lives. Her private practice focuses on facilitating family members in making breakthroughs in their relationships through a unique coaching method, the Truwell Technology.

Jemelle Ackourey

KINDERGARTEN

Jemeille Ackourey is a Licensed Professional Counselor and has a master's degree in counseling. She provides services to individuals and families at her North Central Phoenix office. Her compassionate assistant is Ellis, a golden doodle and certified therapy dog. Jemeille served the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Phoenix for 23 years before retiring in 2005 as their Vice President of Operations. Throughout her professional career, Jemeille has been volunteering her time and expertise at various community agencies, associations and schools where she trains staff, educates students, mentors youth, and advises on program and organizational development. She has served on numerous educational and community boards and advisory committees. Jemeille's greatest joy is her family. Her marriage to Karl has brought together a blended family of 5 children, their spouses, significant others, and 4 grandchildren.

Class Descriptions

PRE-INFANT (Pregnant by September)

This class provides the foundation for a successful transition into motherhood. There are many new things to learn about a newborn's development, behaviors, and most importantly needs. Please feel free to bring your infant with you to class if you should have him or her during the school year!

INFANT I (0-6 months old)

All the infant "firsts" are shared and cherished in these important first six months. Bedtime routines are established and new foods are introduced. Please feel free to bring your infant (0-6 months old) to class with you!

INFANT II (7-13 months old)

The entirety of the first year is discussed and celebrated. The child is developing new behaviors and reaching milestones in crawling, walking and babbling.

TODDLER I (14-20 months)

Mobility and exploration are under way. This class focuses on nutrition, napping and discipline.

TODDLER II (21-29 months)

Helping parents prepare and guide their children through the major transitions of this stage and year ahead. Preparing for preschool, potty training, moving from the crib to the bed, behavioral changes and social interaction are the goals of this class.

PRE-SCHOOL I (30-40 months)

This class focuses on the struggle for power between child and parent, providing useful and effective parenting strategies while respecting the child's need for independence. Sibling interaction and the family are discussed as well.

PRE-SCHOOL II (41-50 months)

This class devotes much time to children's social development, covering a variety of issues from anger management to conflict resolution to peer relationships. Additionally, topics in this class will include: establishing family rules, building self-confidence and self-reliance, and encouraging cognitive and physical development.

PRE-K (51-59 months)

Parents discuss and prepare for the next step into kindergarten, including but not limited to: choosing a school that meets their child's and family's needs, learning math and reading tools that will enhance kindergarten success, and finding ways to encourage self-confidence and independence. Also, every class features take home crafts and recipes that focus on kindergarten readiness skills.

KINDERGARTEN (enrolled in Kindergarten)

NEW CLASS THIS YEAR!

Come to this class for support, encouragement, and many laughs as we help moms and their children transition into elementary school. Topics will focus on nurturing a child's autonomy, helping them set appropriate boundaries, fostering their awareness, and encouraging responsibility.

Class Progression

For 30 years, North Central Parenting Group has followed a class progression that has proven to be most beneficial to members and instructors. We group parents by their first child's age (as of Sept. 1) and they follow the progression shown in the diagram. Parenting a 3 month old is much different than parenting an 11 month old, so classes for the "little ones" were created for a much smaller age range. As our children age, the developmental differences between a few months lessens, therefore the age range in classes widens. The result of this widened age range is that at preschool age, NCPG combines the two Toddler classes to progress through the rest of their NCPG years together.

Pre Infant >> Infant II >> Toddler II

Preschool I >>> Preschool II >>> Pre-K >>> Kindergarten

Infant | >> Toddler |

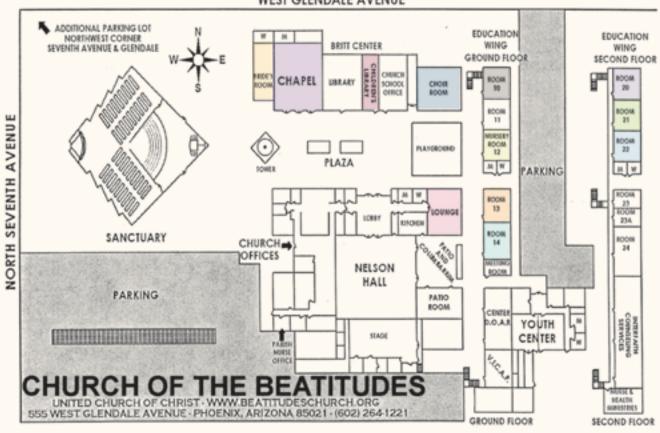

This diagram depicts a typical class progression in NCPG. Of course, there are several variables in play:

- 1. Progression may vary depending on your child's birth date. If your child is the oldest or youngest in a class, you may not follow the same progression as other members.
- 2. Member enrollment also affects class progression as the Board strives to have no class be too big or too small.

If you have any questions about your class assignment, please contact membership@ncpgaz.org. We can accommodate requests.

Brain-Based Parenting Sept. 17, 2014

6:00-6:30 Social Hour with Light Refreshments

6:30-7:30 Lecture by Dr. Lisa Smith

7:30-8:00 Question & Answer Period

Based on child & adolescent development, the "Triune" brain, Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs, and the basics of human behavior.

You will walk away with strategies for the following:

- Understanding the basics of behavior in order to interpret behavior – especially "missed" behavior (from a Neurodevelopmental perspective).
- Communicating clearly, effectively and concisely while matching your words to your child/teen's development and "brainstate" at the time
- Brain-based techniques to move from chaos to calm!
- Brain-based boundaries for the "boundary buster" child.
- Neurodevelopmental strategies & effective tools for peaceful parenting!

Dr. Lisa Smith has a Master's Degree in Child and Adolescent Developmental Psychology, a Doctorate in Metaphysics. She is a certified Neurodevelopmentalist and worked to heal her son, who was diagnosed with autism at age 3 1/2. He is now 21 and indistinguishable from his peers.

Lisa has authored 3 books, has appeared on television, speaks around the country about Parenting On Purpose and is available for individual consultation. You can check out her website at www.monsterproof yourchild.com

Musicology is an enhanced music program designed specifically for newborns through 3-year olds. Parents and caregivers are along for that important one on one time with their child, while an experienced teacher orchestrates the fun! Best thing about being a Mom: everything, but mostly the unconditional love they have for you and you have for them!

I stay sane by... watching reality tv, surrounding myself with friends & family and drinking plenty of wine!

People might not know that I... love anything with a monogram!

Come to me for... ANYTHING! If you ever need anything, please don't hesitate to reach out to me at a meeting, via email, phone...I'd love to hear from you!

Sarah Frev Vice President

Children: Tessa (5) and Connor (2)

Spouse: Brian

NCPG class: Toddler II

Best thing about being a Mom: Kids expose you to a new world of friends, activities and perspectives you didn't have previously.

I stay sane by... working, even a few hours a day as a PR consultant gives me a mental break.

People might not know that I... moved here from Annapolis, Maryland after 11 years in the DC area.

Come to me for... anything! I support the president and other board positions as needed so I can help direct you to the right place.

Amy Forsythe Education Co-Director

Kids: Connor (13) Elise (2) Savannah

(5.5mo)

Spouse: Warren

NCPG class: Toddler II

Best thing about being a Mom: Experiencing the world again through my kid's eyes. I love seeing their pure unadulterated joy as they have their first moments. And their hugs and kisses are pretty much...THE best! Someone told me once to always look at your child while they sleep. When you've had a particularly draining and frustrating day and you see them snuggled safely and cozy in bed, you fall in love with them all over again. I never go to bed without checking on my sleeping angels....

I stay sane by... Still trying to learn how to take time for myself. It's all about my kids, all the time! But I force myself to hit the gym most days for even 30 minutes and have just started to read adult literature again. I've come to really appreciate my girlfriends too and love some friend time...with a cocktail, ideally!

People might not know that I.... Used to teach preschool. I felt pretty confident dealing with 2-4 year olds, but having kids of my own is a whole new ball game. I do everything I said I'd never do. We also have a place in Flagstaff so we spend lots of time up North.

Come to me for.... Anything! But I have a teenager, a toddler, and an infant. I can sympathize on all levels.

Anna Peterman

Treasurer

Kids: Lillian (3) Spouse: Greg

Class: Preschool II

Best thing about being a mom: The unconditional love and watching her learn from mistakes and absorb new information like a little sponge.

I stay sane by... enforcing a one hour mommy workout time Monday through Friday. No one's allowed to encroach on this time (unless for dire emergencies)!!

People may not know that I... do obstacle mud runs for "fun".

Come to me for... anything financial related; Payment Plans, Reimbursement Forms, Refunds, Scholarship Opportunities, etc. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions, I'm here to help!

Caroline Keating

Assistant Treasurer

Children: Jack (21mo) and another son

due in October

Spouse: Jim

NCPG class: Toddler II

Best thing about being a Mom: The cuddles, love and sloppy kisses. It is very rewarding to have a purpose, other than yourself.

I stay sane by... Having plenty of date nights and mom's night outs!

People might not know that I... Have two horses, Gerry and Honor. I love to compete in horse shows.

Come to me for... Any accounting questions you may have.

Julie Christensen

People might not know that I... Used to have a maternity line called Jules Ford

Come to me for... A girl's night out!

Stephanie Binch Fundraising Co-Director

Children: Samson (20mo)

Spouse: William

NCPG class: Toddler I

Best thing about being a Mom: Watching Samson grow and being challenged in ways I never thought imaginable. Waking up and seeing his smiling face and hearing all the laughter in our house.

I stay sane by...Going to Pilates as much as possible, it's so hard to find time. Also taking Samson on long walks, and I always try to take a nap when he takes a nap!!

People might not know that I....am an extreme snowboarder although I have reigned in since having Samson.

Come to me for... Advice on what not to do in regards to getting your baby to sleep! Anything I can help with please ask me!

Sara Snyder

Fundraising Co-Director

Child: Lila Gisèle (3mo)

Spouse: Jeremy

NCPG class: Infant I

Best thing about being a Mom: getting sweet cuddles, giggles and coos

I stay sane by... wine, yoga &

Netflix marathons

People might not know that.... French is my first language Come to me for...event planning, travel ideas & a good app for photos of your kids!

Stacey Brown Membership Co-Director

Children: Greyson (2), baby girl due in October.

Partner: John Rothstein NCPG class: Toddler II

Best thing about being a Mom: Walking into their room every morning to see the excitement they have on their face to see you. Unconditional love is an amazing start to the day!

I stay sane by... enjoying a glass of wine with friends or family!

People might not know that I... would rather eat leftovers than the original meal!

Come to me for... Anything. I always want to be there for anyone that needs me.

Brittany Moran Membership Co-Director

Children: Daphne Rose (20mo)

Spouse: Jim

NCPG class: Toddler I

Best thing about being a Mom: using problem-solving skills constantly; smiles

and hugs from Daphne

I stay sane by... meeting up with friends (without our kids) People might not know that I... own my own business Come to me for... a helping hand and help translating Spanish

Shaly Vassigh Education Co-Director

Children: Kian (5) and Kamran (3)

Spouse: Goudarz

NCPG class: Kindergarten

Best thing about being a Mom: Seeing them do the right thing even when

I'm not looking

I stay sane by... wine, NCPG Hot Topics time, and date night with my husband.

People might not know that I... am of Indian descent but born and raised in Ames, Iowa!

Come to me for... Let me know how you like what you're learning in your class and with any questions or feedback on our Evening Lecture Series.

Joey Ghelfi

Education Co-Director

Children: Sofia (2) Jack (4wo)

Spouse: JD

NCPG class: Preschool I

Best thing about being a Mom: Life becomes simple and innocent again... and the laughter is endless. My little goofball cracks me up everyday!

I stay sane by... making time for my husband, family and friends.

People might not know that I... taught yoga.

Come to me for... Sugar. I am a candy-holic. I'll always have something sweet stashed in my purse somewhere.

Carlie Garcia

Communications Co-Director

Children: Berkeley (2.5), Anderson (3mo) and dog Kota (4 year-old mini Australian Shepherd)

Spouse: Ernie

NCPG class: Preschool I

Best thing about being a Mom: Rediscovering things through the lens of my kiddos, and always remembering to make time for play! Even if that means a race to pick up the toys!

I stay sane by... Keeping a little time for myself. Whether it's going for a hike, a run, or getting in a yoga class! I also love a good pedicure, a night out (sans kiddos) and an iced dirty chai latte (*with soy milk)!

People might not know that I... Married my high school sweetheart and have an insatiable love for chips and guacamole.

Come to me for... Anything related to Facebook, advertising with NCPG, and/or the newsletter!

Kelly Vasbinder

Children: James & Geneva (20mo twins)

Spouse: Jordan

NCPG class: Toddler II

Best thing about being a Mom:

It always changes! But right now, every time they hug me, grab my hand or give me a kiss. I just melt.

I stay sane by... Getting out of the house! Whether with the twins, on a date night or with friends- a change of scenery does wonders! And, a nightly glass of wine helps too!

People might not know that I... write personalized children's books.

Come to me for... Anything IVF related. I'm always happy to talk or listen if you or someone you know is going through the process. I also love to talk about and listen to anything from motherhood to celebrity gossip! And, of course, for anything in regards to this newsletter!

Jennifer Nelson

Nursery Director

Children: Carter (4mo old son)

Spouse: Jared NCPG class: infant I

Best thing about being a Mom: the bond you have with your children. There will never be another relationship as unique and special as you two share with each other!

I stay sane by... Going to the gym. It's my mommy time to get away and focus on my health and well-being. A glass of wine with girlfriends doesn't hurt either ;)

People might not know that I... absolutely love to cook! I enjoy trying new recipes of all cuisines and have never met a plate of food I didn't like!

Come to me for... A good laugh! I definitely live by the motto "Life is too important to be taken seriously"

Laura Golding

Children: Olivia (2) William (4mo)

WHERE FAITH INSPIRES EXCELLENCE.

Rooted in rich Catholic traditions, Saint Thomas the Apostle offers a diverse and inclusive environment combined with an unsurpassed academic curriculum for students pre-kindergarten through 8th grade. Since 1953, our focus on educating the total child produces young men and women who understand the importance of their faith and their duty to live out that faith in everything they do.

We invite you to tour our campus and see for yourself what makes Saint Thomas the Apostle such a special place.

Mustard-Herb Panko Crusted Chicken Breasts

Recipe and photos by ForTheLoveOfCooking.net

Yield: 3-4

Prep Time: 5 min.

Cook Time: 20-25 min.

Total Time: 30 min.

Ingredients:

1/4 cup Italian seasoned panko crumbs 2 tbsp fresh parsley 1 ½ tbsp Parmesan cheese, grated 1 tsp fresh thyme, leaves only 2 chicken boneless skinless chicken breasts Sea salt and freshly cracked, pepper, to taste 2 tbsp Dijon mustard 1 clove of garlic, minced Cooking spray

Directions:

Preheat the oven to 450 degrees. Coat a baking sheet with tin foil and spray it with cooking spray.

Pour the panko crumbs, parsley, cheese, and thyme onto a plate, mix until well combined. Season both sides of the chicken breasts with sea salt and freshly cracked pepper. Mix the mustard and garlic together then rub evenly all over each chicken breast. Roll each chicken breast in the panko mixture until coated really well. Place the chicken on the baking sheet.

Place into the oven and bake for 20-25 minutes or until a meat thermometer reads 170 degrees. Let the meat rest for 7-10 minutes before slicing and serving. Enjoy!
